HUNT REPORTING

Every autumn at about this time The Chronicle sends a letter to all Masters of Foxhounds asking them to appoint a member of their hunt to send us accounts of the sport they show during the season. Next to hunting at home, foxhunters enjoy hunting with other packs, seeing and hearing new hounds, huntsmen, country, horses and friends. And the next thing to hunting with them in person is to hunt with them on paper.

Hunt reporting in periodical literature began with the publication of the first number of the "Sporting Magazine" in London, October 1792. In an "Address to the Public" the editors wrote: "Pieces of merit from Correspondents are requested, and shall be duly attended to; particularly accounts of every remarkable Hunt, whether of Stag, Fox, Hare, &c." Page 44 of this issue contained an account of a hunt with the Seaford Harriers which hunted a hare for 16 miles after which it took to the sea and was caught by the hounds a quarter of a mile from shore.

In the January 1822 issue of the Sporting Magazine appeared an article "Foxhunting in Leicestershire" over the signature of "Nimrod". This was the pen name of Charles James Apperley, a well-known hunting man, whom Pittman the editor had retained as hunting correspondent on a basis which cost the magazine about 3,000 pounds a year. This munificence was amply rewarded, however. Nimrod became the greatest hunt reporter of all time, whose accounts have been collected and several times republished, while the size and circulation of the Sporting Magazine more than doubled.

Hunt reporting in this country began with the "American Farmer", founded in 1819 by John Stuart Skinner of Baltimore, which on page 25 of its issue for April 8, 1825 published a column entitled "Sporting Olio", headed by a woodcut of a huntsman and two hounds. The subtitle "Sporting and Other Anecdotes, and Miscellaneous Items" was followed by an account of a 17 mile point with Lord Fitzwilliam's hounds. Accounts of hunting with American packs appeared in the columns not long thereafter, particularly with the Washington and Baltimore packs, Mr. Skinner being an enthusiastic follower of the latter. When he sold the American Farmer in 1829 and founded the American Turf Register and Sporting magazine, modelled to a considerable extent on its British counterpart, hunt reporting at once assumed a principal and honored place, which reached its greatest heights during and immediately after the Civil War in the contributions of Col. Larry Birdsong to "The Countryman" and Col. Fred Skinner (son of J. S.) to "Turf, Field and Farm".

THE CHRONICLE

While we do not expect Masters to discover among their followers many Nimrods or Skinners to contribute to The Chronicle, the writings of these worthies can be of help to all of us. A contribution to The Chronicle is of interest, not merely to the participants in the hunts which it describes, but to foxhunters all over the country. The former may like to review every scrap of ground traversed by hounds ("from Farmer Jones' pig pen to the Widow Black's corn crib") and the names of everyone at the finish, but to sportsmen generally these details mean little. They prefer to read about the problems presented by the fox, taking advantage of terrain, climate, weather, scent, pace, and moving obstacles, and about the way in which hounds, huntsman and Master solved these problems. A background of hound breeding, kennel management and maintenance of country is illuminating and a good story or two is always welcome.

As the official publication of the Masters of Foxhounds Association, The Chronicle binds all foxhunters together. There is no better way of furthering this end than good hunt reporting.

Article Reprinted

Dear Sir:

I thought you might be interested to hear that my article "Saumur-Temple of Equitation", which appeared in The Chronicle last year, was reprinted in French in the August issue of "L'Eperon". It was accompanied by a very nice introduction by Colonel Challan-Belval, vice-president of the Federation des Sports Equestres. The French seemed to be very pleased that the culture and tradition of their cavalry school was so much appreciated in the United States. I thought you would like to know that The Chronicle continues to receive international recognition.

Very best regards,

REVIEW OF THE WEEK

*Gallant Man Wins Nassau County Handicap At Belmont, In His First Race With Older Horses

Raleigh Burroughs

Here it is, almost the first of October, and the three-year-olds still are fighting for their honor.

Some savants hold that *Gallant Man has a clear-cut case, but other knowledgeable scholars support Round Table. The Bold Ruler boys had calmed down pretty well after the Belmont Stakes; but when the Wheatley colt took the Jerome, soundly whipping a field of enviable pedigrees, the noises started again. And old-timers who can remember back to March will remind you that Gen. Duke beat 'em all (or almost all).

*Gallant Man lost the Derby by a nose when Shoemaker, it is alleged, had pole trouble, but hasn't missed since. He won the Peter Pan, and followed that with a glorious victory in the Belmont in which Bold Ruler ended up third, beaten 12 lengths. Then he won an allowance race at Saratoga (seven furlongs) and followed that with a triumph in the Travers.

Belmont Park

On September 18, at Belmont Park, he took his first shot at his elders and came out of that with a fresh crop of laurels draped becomingly over his brow.

The race was the Nassau County Handicap, and, again, Mr. Frank E. Kilroe, Belmont's Arranger of Imposts, worked out a coronary thrombosis finish.

Theoretically, a handicapper is supposed to "bring the horses together" by the weights he assigns - but only theoretically. This fellow gets serious about it. When there is less than a length and a half between the first horse and the fourth at the finish of a big race, a pretty terrible strain is placed upon a person with a financial interest in the outcome. Cries for oxygen tents come from all over the playground.

The New York tracks had better watch their step. If they're wise, on days when Mr. Kilroe puts on his handicaps, they'll give cardiac tests at the gate and admit only the physically fit. This gives me a swell idea for a murder mystery: There's this wealthy uncle, who isn't dying fast enough, and the avaricious nephew starts taking him to see Kilroe - composed handicaps. Somewhere between the Carter and the Nassau County, the old buzzard's going to kick off, and neither Scotland Yard, nor Nero Wolfe, nor Perry Mason, can find anything that looks like a clue.

Then, in the next to the last paragraph on the final page, Mr. Kilroe comes in and confesses. To make a happy ending, I'm going to have him paroled, but stripped of his lead slabs.

Nassau County Handicap

*Gallant Man was given scale weight (121 pounds) for a three-year-old in the Nassau County. Dedicate, a five-year-old, also carried scale, 126, the par figure for horses older than three. The other five in the race were four-year-olds, and their weight assignments ranged from the 121 pounds lugged by Reneged down to Beam Rider's 108.

When Starter George Cassidy notified the riders that they might come out with their horses, Dedicate took leave of the gate most promptly. *Gallant Man, Reneged and Tick Tock followed. After they had settled down to running, Reneged had a clear lead, with Dedicate second and Tick Tock third.

*Gallant Man, Oh Johnny and Third Brother raced together a couple of lengths back of the leaders going into the backstretch.

After they had gone three-quarters of a mile, Dedicate and Tick Tock were right alongside of Reneged. *Gallant Man was two lengths behind them, and beginning to run, and Oh Johnny and Third Brother appeared to have shot their bolts. As the next three furlongs revealed, they HAD shot their bolts.

Hitting the eighth pole, Reneged led by a half a length, but *Gallant Man had about collared Dedicate and Tick Tock came interestingly close. The race from there on in was a free-for-all. Though Reneged couldn't quite keep up, Dedicate and *Gallant Man fought it out to the last jump, with the three-year-old earning the prize by a neck. A length back, Reneged saved third place by a neck over Tick Tock. The winner's time was 1:47 1/5, a new track record for nine furlongs.

People slumped in their seats, while, up on the roof, Mr. Kilroe rubbed his hands in satisfaction.

*Gallant Man added $19,300 in boodle to make his total for the year $206,725. His record shows 7 wins and 2 seconds in 11 starts.

While spending the winter in Florida, the son of Migoli-Majideh, by *Mahmoud, won the Hibiscus at Hialeah.

The colt is the property of Mr. Ralph Lowe and is trained by Johnny Nerud.

Bill Shoemaker has ridden him in his last six races.

*Gallant Man was bred by the late Aga Khan and his son Aly. He was foaled in England and was purchased with a group of young horses two years ago.

The Cowdin

A few weeks back, I pointed out to the sports - loving readers of THE CHRONICLE that investment-minded persons should study the gilt-edged possibilities of Jewel's Reward. At that time the Maine Chance Farm colt had run eight times and won two races. There is nothing remarkable about winning 25 per cent of the time, but Jewel's Reward's wins were in stakes and one of them was the $100,000 Washington Park Futurity. From an interest-bearing point of view, and $8,000 capital outlay (paid out in $1,000 installments) between May 6 and August 24, would have netted a profit of $12,050. Nothing in utilities or in-

Essex Fox Hounds Hunt Race Meeting

Chris Wood, Jr.

With humid weather and cloudy skies prevailing, some 4,500 followers of hunt racing gathered on the hillside of Mr. & Mrs. E. H. Ellis' Thoroughbred breeding establishment at Far Hills, N. J., on Saturday, September 21, for the 37th annual meeting sponsored by the Essex Fox Hounds Race Meeting Association. Happiest of the group, was Mrs. Henry Obre of Monkton, Md., as she watched her Irish imports account for the co-features on the program of 4 sanctioned races.

Both victorious in their last efforts at Fair Hail, Md., *Coup-de-Vite was returned the winner in the 35th running of the New Jersey Hunt Cup, and *Thrill 2nd turned back 4 competitors to win the Wilmerding Memorial Cup.

Contested over an abridged route of 3 miles for this renewal, the New Jersey Hunt Cup found only 4 of the 8 nominees going postward. To the dismay of many, Mrs. C. Paul Denckla's Ned's Flying, winner of the race last year and of the past Maryland Hunt Cup, was in the quartet of declarations. This made *Coup-de-Vite the favorite and the greatly improved timber-topper performed accordingly.

Shouldering Kenneth Field and nearly 30 pounds of lead and tack to make his allotment of 164, the Irish 'chaser received little contention from the trio of novice timber performers. Away well, jockey Field permitted Jane L. Flaccus' Over Top to show the way and take out a few top rails enroute. Fencing well and running on his own, *Coup-de-Vite ran in second position, except over the 10th fence, where Miss Flaccus' other entry, Simple Samson, occupied the spot briefly. Dropping back to 3rd, the latter put in a mighty jump over the 20th an popped his apprentice rider, R. Beach, from the saddle. Calling upon his mount over this fence, Field moved on Melvin Ferral and Over Top to lead over the 21st and final fence by a length. Unable to threaten in the stretch, the latter gave way as *Coup-de-Vite drew out in the stretch to win by 8 lengths. Mrs. Fulmor Miller's Royal Revel was the only other starter, and he would have been better off at home on the farm. Ridden by the owner's son, Bruce Miller, the roan gelding was far from fit and never entered contention. Although he managed to get over all of the fences, Royal Revel was too exhausted to cross the finish line and had to be removed from the course in an ambulance, which was thoughtfully provided by the association.

Scoring a consecutive victory with *Coup-de-Vite in his 3rd ride over timber, Kenneth Field guided the winner over the 3 mile firm course and 21 fences in 6:45. With a financial assist from the United Hunts Racing Association, the New Jersey Hunt Cup carried a purse of $1,000 and the winner earned a net of $635 for his efforts.

THE CHRONICLE

Wilmerding Memorial Cup

Having sent out the winner of the timber feature, trainer John (Jackie) Bosley 3rd registered a double with Mrs. Obre's *Thrill 2nd. Meeting 4 contenders in the Wilmerding Memorial Cup, the Irish-bred hurdler received a rousing ride from Kenneth Field to turn back Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Out of Reach at the wire. Going to the front after Harry M. Rhett, Jr.'s Port Call ran off the course after leading over the 1st hurdle, *Thrill 2nd responded to Field and was never headed for the balance of the 2 mile trip over 11 hurdles. Coupled with Out of Reach, Mrs. Phipps' Landscaping, under A. P. (Paddy) Smithwick, furnished contention over all of the hurdles. Following *Thrill 2nd, over the final hurdle by a length, Landscaping gave way in the stretch as Out of Reach closed rapidly under Joseph Aitcheson, Jr.'s whip. Although flying at the finish, the latter was a half-length off *Thrill 2nd under the wire and the same margin in front of his stablemate. Mary Rumsey's Tall Mound finished 4th and last.

In covering the 2 miles and 11 hurdles in 3:48 2/5 over firm turf, the winner scored a 3rd consecutive victory and picked up a net sum of $1,280 from the new high purse of $2,000. Starting his winning ways at the Timonium Fair early in September, *Thrill 2nd, won a flat race under Earl Phelps with a $1,000 claiming price on his hide. Moving up and making his first start over hurdles since 1954, the 8-year-old gelding won a division of the Center Square Hurdle at Fair Hill, Md., under a claiming price of $3,500, for his 2nd of 3 triumphs. In winning the hurdle handicap under 140 pounds, *Thrill 2nd turned back a pair of good hurdlers in Out of Reach and Landscaping. The latter, carrying 150 pounds, was making his first start of the year, but last year annexed the $10,000 Charles L. Appleton Steeplechase at Belmont Park. A winner of 4 hurdle events this year, Out of Reach included the United Hunts Purse at Monmouth Park in his skein.

Maiden Hurdle Race

Posthumously honoring the noted steeplechase jockey, Harry E. Harris, the opening event on the program brought out 9 maiden hurdlers, with at least 6 of the field being "sure winners", according to their trainers and supporters. Paying her first visit to a hunt race meeting this year, the popular Mrs. Simon T. Patterson had her trip from Pittsburgh, Pa., well rewarded as she watched her *Downpatrick score by 3/4's of a length. Taking command over the 7th hurdle,

Steeplechasing At Belmont

John E. Cooper

The $17,300 Broad Hollow Steeplechase Handicap, the first of the so-called "triple crown" races through the field at Belmont's fall meeting, proved to be an outstanding success for the Walsh trio of Michael the trainer, Mrs. Michael the owner, and Tommy the rider. The horse which brought good fortune to them was the five-year-old Independence, by the fabulous sire, *Nasrullah out of the stakes winning mare, Miss Disco, which came by Discovery. A photo finish camera was entirely superfluous, for the chart makers called his winning margin eight lengths. Alvin Untermeyer's Morpheus, also a five-year-old, with 138 lbs., 10 less than the winner, loomed up menacingly on the final turn, but his bid fell short, although he had no trouble for place with Shipboard and Glencannon finishing third and fourth in the order named. Among the others vanquished were no less than His Boots, Ancestor and King Commander, and thereby hangs the tale of the race.

Prior to the running, most informed opinion held that the horse that caught the front running Ancestor would be returned the winner. With his weight assignment of 162 lbs., his superb fencing and condition gave him the call, even though his last three races were good ones, and on his record, he was due for a "bad race". The public made Shipboard, equal top weight with Ancestor, the favorite off his winning effort in the long two and a half mile Saratoga Chase, while Independence with 148 lbs., was held the second choice. At the start Ancestor was away well, and took the lead going to the first fence, but Glencannon and King Commander were right with him, and he maintained the first place by the slimmest of margins going down the far side the first time. Headed by Glencannon round the first turn, the field raced for the first jump on the front side, and here Ancestor, the impeccable jumper, unfolded slowly on the landing, and all but went down except for the nearby presence of Glencannon. Colliding with the Allison Stern jumper, Ancestor regained his balance, but never was a serious threat afterward. Going by the stands the first time, Glencannon showed the way with King Commander in close attendance and the balance of the field within three or four lengths. Shipboard was ridden by Albert Foot, who was riding his first race since a nasty fall some ten days previously. Right from the break, Foot started "scrubbing", and as the field rounded the clubhouse turn, the Montpelier color-bearer was third, but Tommy Walsh on Independence moved up on the outside to get within striking position as the field rounded into the far side. Morpheus, with Joe Aitcheson in the saddle was running well, and except for Ancestor, it was still a fairly open race midway down the far side. Then Shipboard made a bad one, and all but unseated Foot, and in the process, dropped back to last. At the tenth fence, King Commander failed to rise properly giving both himself and John Cotter a taste of the greensward. Meanwhile, Bold Ruler's full brother moved closer to lap Glencannon, and Morpheus took over third place several lengths away. Around the last turn, the race narrowed down to these three, but here Glencannon gave way, and the bid by Morpheus fell short. The courageous Shipboard made up some ground at the end, but the race was over before he had a chance to test the winner.

Race Not Up To Par

The Broad Hollow was a star studded race, and included most of the stakes contenders worthy of the name except for Neji, but as a race it left something to be desired, and cannot be considered a true test of most of the runners. His Boots showed little of the dash he displayed in the Harbor Hill, but well may be a serious threat in the longer Brook and Grand National. In contrast the winner, more consistent than any jumper in training at present, may very well be the horse to beat in the important tests ahead. In his last seven starts, he has won three, been second an equal number of times, and was third in a race, in which he was probably best except for racing luck and riding judgment. For those who pick winners by dreams, chance signs, and other equally infallible methods, the result of the Broad Hollow was a foregone conclusion before the race left the paddock. "Kitty" Walsh, the owner of the winner was "dressed for the winners circle". Attractively dressed in a purple frock and a most becoming black velvet hat, she later admitted that had not Independence won, she would "have sneaked out the back way". Time for the race was 4:01, which compares with Ancestor's time in the Harbor Hill of 3:57 3/5.

Earlier in the week, Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Punctuality proved best of a small field of three-year-olds, at a mile and a half over hurdles, when Paddy Smithwick guided him home to a length and three quarter score over John M. Schiff's Romeo. Sun Dog, owned by Mrs. Janon Fisher, and trained by her son, was third, and might have been closer with better fencing.

*Narcissus 2nd Wins

Chalking up his second win of the week, Paddy Smithwick was the winning jockey on Tuesday with an easy score with Mrs.

H. T. McKnight's *Narcissus 2nd. After what appeared like a hard race behind Rythminhim at Fair Hill three days previously, *Narcissus 2nd ran a really fine race running and jumping like a veteran. Midway down the back side in this two miles and an eighth brush test, *Narcissus was challenged by *Carafar, and it was head and head for these two for several fences, with *Narcissus proving the better jumper, and then going on to score by six lengths. In the closing stages of the race, Carthage closed ground to garner the place award but he was no threat to the winner. A length and a half further back, *Carafar was third with Eastcor the only other to finish after Coveted lost his rider early in the race. The latter was ridden by Bob McDonald, who appeared to take a real tight hold of his mount. At the fourth fence, he was jumped off. To the horror of the crowd, his foot was caught up in his near iron, and McDonald was dragged for perhaps a hundred feet. Fortunately something let go, and he escaped serious injury. Testifying to the hardness of jumping jocks, he was in the saddle two days later on His Boots in the Broad Hollow.

On Wednesday, a field of platers going a mile and a half over hurdles, again demonstrated that a well matched field, regardless of class, can make an interesting race. For over a mile Junaloska made the pace, and still led at the far turn, then Air School took command and opened a daylight lead coming into the stretch. Racing for the final hurdle, five others in the field of nine ranged up to make it a six horse race. Between that point and the wire, Mr. United emerged as the leader and appeared a certain winner until just yards short of the wire, when he was joined by Blen More and Rotal. It took a picture to separate them with Mrs. Arthur White's Blen More getting the nod. Rotal, which was in close quarters at the final hurdle was second, while Mr. United was a nose further back for third, two lengths in front of Air School.

The Refugio

The Refugio, a $6,000 prep race for the Rouge Dragon Hurdle Handicap featured the Friday program, and it resulted in a mild upset when Guilford Dudley's Navy Fighter crossed the wire with several lengths to spare over Mill River Stables' Eternal Son. Murt Hoey was on the winner, and he moved with authority going to the far turn to take the lead from Eternal Son. Around the last turn and into the stretch, he was challenged by his stablemate, Greek Brother, and *Langton Breeze, but held sway to the wire under a hand ride. Greek Brother did not find his best stride until late in the race,

VIRGINIA

NYDRIE AVERAGE

At the Saratoga Yearling Sales, Danny Van Clief's Nydrie Stud, Esmont, Va., sold 15 yearlings for $337,400 or an average of $25,160. This is said to be the highest average ever obtained for a consignment of over 12 yearlings.

TOP VIRGINIA FILLY

The top price paid for a Virginia consigned filly at the Saratoga Yearling Sales was the $36,000 paid by Mrs. Frank Rand of Santa Fe, New Mexico, for the brown filly by *Turn-To out of Yellow Ribbon, by *Sickle in the consignment of Mr. and Mrs. Melville Church II's North Cliff Farm, Rixeyville, Virginia.

"IMPROVING THE BREED"

A number of years ago, Jules Schwartz, who with his two brothers operates the Lincoln Maintenance Company, an outfit which has the cleaning concessions at most eastern race tracks and in many New York office buildings, bought a mare called Waymark, who won over 30 races for him. She was put to the stud after retiring from racing and was sent to Virginia to Harold H. Polk's Ravensworth Farm, Annandale, Va., where she was bred for the second time to the Devil Diver stallion Call Over. The result was Nah Hiss, a very useful race horse who to date has earned over $27,000 for his breeder. Call Over was bred to only three mares in 1953. Two of them produced Nah Hiss and stakes placed Mlle. Dianne. He had a book of more than 30 mares for 1957.

BROOKMEADE NEWS

Currently at Mrs. Isabelle Dodge Sloan's Brookmeade Farm, Upperville, Va., are twelve yearlings, five colts and five fillies owned by Brookmeade and two yearlings belonging to trainer Preston M. Burch which are now being broken. Seven colt foals and three fillies will soon be weaned at Brookmeade and will be joined by nine colts and eight fillies foaled in Kentucky. At the Keeneland Fall Sales, Brookmeade will sell seventeen mares, retaining 30 of which 20 are now in Virginia.

HILL GAIL FILLY TOPS DONCASTER

Easily the top price at the Doncaster Sales was made on the final morning when industrialist Mr. Evans Weston, just starting to take an active interest in racing, paid $50,000 for the brown filly by Hill Gail (bred and raced by Calumet Farm) out of Sarie, the dam of last season's leading two-year-old Sarcelle. This filly is the last produce of her dam, who unfortunately died last summer, and is one of the first crop of Hill Gail yearlings to be sold.

American-Owned Winner of St. Leger

Peter Towers-Clark

For the first time in the history of the race, victory in Doncaster's St. Leger, the last of the Classics run over 1 3/4 miles, went to a horse trained in Ireland when Ballymoss, owned by Pennsylvania building magnate John McShain, beat Court Harwell by a length with the favorite Brioche three-parts of a length away third.

Second in the Derby to Crepello, and then the winner of the Irish Derby in the easiest possible style, Ballymoss would have been a short-price favorite for the race had he not been beaten in the Great Voltigeur Stakes at York by Brioche. On that occasion the going had been rather "dead" and, though it was believed that Ballymoss was not quite ready, having been rested after the Irish Derby, and would improve by Doncaster, the race seemed to raise doubts whether he would be suited by the conditions, as steady rain had fallen throughout the night. It was for this reason that his price went out to a generous 8-1 at the "off".

A hard-puller, Ballymoss was settled well back in the field of sixteen in the early stages as outsider Barred Rock set a moderate pace, but moved up to fifth place with a little over half a mile to go. As the horses turned into the straight, jockey Tommy Burns could be seen to be going so easily on Ballymoss that the race already seemed virtually over. Taking the lead two furlongs from home, he won much more easily than the verdict suggests, with American-owned Tempest making a late run to occupy fourth place just as he had in the Derby.

Mrs. McShain, who had flown over with her husband for the race thirty-six hours before, came down to lead in the winner, who received a great ovation from the crowd. This was the first English Classic success for O'Brien, who is better known as a trainer of jumpers, at which task he is in a class by himself, being the only man who has trained three Grand National winners, in addition to which he has turned out the winner of every important chase and hurdle race in England and Ireland. Jockey Tommy Burns too is equally versatile under both sets of rules.

By the young Nearco horse Mossborough, who is out of Hyperion's three-parts sister All Moonshine, Ballymoss comes of stout blood on the female side of his pedigree, his dam Indian Call being by the St. Leger winner Singapore out of Flittermere, who won the Yorkshire Oaks and is by Buchan out of Keysoe, also a St. Leger winner. Despite this excellent pedigree, Mr. Richard Ball, breeder of Ballymoss, was able to secure Indian Call just after the outbreak of war for a mere $45 from a large consignment sent up to the Newmarket Sales by millionaire breeder Lord Glanely. From her he has bred four other winners of nearly $17,000 in stakes in addition to Ballymoss, who was bought as a yearling for $13,500. An own-sister to Ballymoss who came up at the Doncaster Sales on the morning after the St. Leger was bought for $15,500. In all, quite a nice return on $45!

Ballymoss is scheduled to accept the invitation to the Washington D. C. International, before which he may possibly run in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe in Paris.

International Racing Seminar

The Jockey Club, parent body of the American turf since 1891, has announced through Chairman George D. Widener that it will conduct an International Seminar on racing to be held in Washington this fall just prior to the running of the Laurel International on November 11.

Widener has forwarded letters to the Jockey Clubs of England, France, Italy, Canada and Argentina inviting them to send one or two representatives to Washington this autumn to attend the five-day meeting being planned and conducted by The Jockey Club from November 7 through November 11.

It is the hope of the Jockey Club that the International Seminar will prove to be of sufficient value to the participants to justify its continuance as an annual event and that the Jockey Clubs of the various other racing nations will each in turn plan and act as host for the future meetings.

Widener's letter to the various Jockey Clubs reads, in part:

"We have become increasingly aware that in recent years racing no longer can be considered a local enterprise in each of the several areas in which it is conducted. It has truly become global in scope. The concept of championship international racing competition has gripped the imagination of the public in this country, and I am sure that the same is true elsewhere.

"The results of the major French and English races are now reported and followed by many racing patrons in this country. The success of American international racing, after only a few years of existence, is unprecedented. And finally, the availability and acceptance of air travel has brought the racing nations of the world into close physical contact with each other.

"All of these factors indicate that in the course of the next few years there will be a vast increase in the interchange of horses and personnel between racing countries—not only in the classic events but on all levels of racing.

"We feel that a regular annual Seminar designed to bring together the world's leading representatives of racing would provide the best opportunity for discussing and solving common problems."

The following tentative partial schedule has been arranged for the International Seminar:

Thursday morning, November 7—Private informal meeting of delegates.

Friday morning, November 8—Open round table discussion in which representatives of the principal racing organizations, such as The Thoroughbred Racing Associations, The American Trainers' Association, the Jockeys' Guild, the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, breeding groups, and prominent newspaper publishers and columnists will participate. The moderator of this session will be Marshall Cassidy, executive director of The Jockey Club.

Friday evening, November 8—Washington D. C. International Ball.

HURDLE RACES

FOR THREE-YEAR-OLDS

On October 16th, the same day as the $50,000 Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase Handicap, will be run the Louis E. Stoddard, Jr. Hurdle Stake restricted to three-year-olds, won last year by Cornhusker of the Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Va., who went on to achieve spectacular success on the flat. This three-year-old hurdle stake follows the example of French racing where three-year-olds of class are encouraged to enter the jumping ranks through restricted events of this type.

SARATOGA SUCCESS

The 24-day meeting at Saratoga in August was by all means the most successful in the history of the track. The Caliber of the racing was higher than ever, as was also the betting with a daily average of $1,014,499. Daily average attendance was also up as compared with last year. Woodley Lane Farm's Reneged, winner of the Saratoga and Albany Handicaps was the leading money winner and Foxcatcher Farms the leading stable. Leading jockeys were Ted Atkinson on the flat and Albert Foot over jumps. Leading trainers were H. A. Jerkens and E. duP. Weymouth with eight and six wins respectively.

CALIFORNIA RACING REVENUE

During the 1956-1957 fiscal year, the State of California received from racing $26,778,752.82, representing an increase of 6 per cent over the preceding period.

CALIFORNIA YEARLING BARGAIN

Old Pueblo, purchased for $11,500 at the California Breeders Association's sale at Del Mar last year, is undoubtedly the greatest yearling bargain in California history. He has won all his five starts this year and $105,495 in the ownership of J. Rukin Jelks and Athol McBean.

CASSIDY HONORED

Marshall Cassidy, Executive Secretary of The Jockey Club and Director of Racing for the Greater New York Association, will be honored at the 26th annual Thoroughbred Club of America's testimonial dinner at Keeneland Oct. 10.

He has been connected with racing for 53 years, starting at the age of 12 as an assistant to his father, the late starter Mars Cassidy. Marshall Cassidy has held a wide variety of positions around the tracks, and has been particularly noted for the many innovations he has made to the benefit of the sport. He built the first stall starting gate, introduced the first electric race timer used on the continent, developed the film patrol and the photo-finish mirror, inaugurated The Jockey Club School for Officials, and sponsored the series of Jockey Club Conferences that have been widely imitated around the country.

ALY'S AMERICAN-BRED WINS

In the last two years Prince Aly Khan has made several purchases in the United States of fillies as foals or yearlings to be retired to his stud at the end of their racing careers, most of which have proved useful on the tracks.

The latest of their number to win is the two-year-old Tocsina, who started at 5-2 on in the September Plate at Baldoye, Ireland, and won easily by two lengths. A brown filly by Double Jay, out of Bells of War, Tocsina was bought because she traces to the illustrious *La Troienne blood which is, of course, hard to find in Europe.

GERMAN THREE-YEAR-OLDS

That the current German three-year-olds represent a vintage year is evident from the fact that Gestuet Ravensburg's black colt Windfang, ridden by Hein Bollow, recently beat an international field in the Grosser Preis von Baden which included Marcel Boussac's Macip and other top class French horses.

PAUL BUTLER BUYS *CLERMONT

Paul Butler, Joint M.F.H. of the Oak Brook Hunt, bought the five-year-old Argentine horse *Clermont (Churrinche-Pontoise), for $55,000, who promptly won for him.

PRESIDENT OF ITALY WINS

STAKES RACE

The five-year-old horse Luino, who races in the colors of the Scuderia Corazzieri, the nom de course of the President of the Italian Republic Giovanni Gronchi, recently won the Premio Mostra d'Oltremare at the Agnano Race Track near Naples, a handicap for three-year-olds and upward at one mile and three-sixteenths. We commend this presidential patronage of racing to our own President.

ARC DE TRIOMPHE ENTRIES

Seven American horses have been entered in the Prix de l'Arc de Triomphe which will be held at Longchamp near Paris in October. Mrs. M. E. Lunn's Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Va., leads with four entries, namely Mister Gus, Nashville, Correspondent and Porterhouse. Llangollen's next door neighbor, Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Brookmeade Farm, also of Upperville, has nominated Oligarchy. Nelson B. Hunt (who recently purchased the Clovelly Farm near Warrenton, Va., from Mrs. R. C. Winnill) has entered the French-bred Master Boing, who ran fifth in this race last year and won the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel, Md., in the autumn. Last, but not least, is C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who ran fourth in the 1956 renewal.

KNIGHT BUYS MARSHALL FARM

Henry H. Knight, owner of Almahurst Farm, Lexington, Ky., has revealed the purchase for $245,000 of the 181.3-acre Marshall Farm on the Bryan Station Pike about three miles from Lexington, and adjacent to another farm Mr. Knight owns. The purchase was made for investment purposes, Mr. Knight reports. F.T.P.

Bryn Mawr Foxhound Show

George Cole Scott

The Thirty-seventh Annual renewal of the Bryn Mawr Hound Show was held on Friday, September 6th at the Radnor Hunt Club. Six different rings were in operation throughout the day as six different shows took place at the same time. The two largest were at the American foxhound ring, where ten different hunts were represented and one hundred and twelve hounds were entered, and the Beagle ring where an equal number of hounds were entered. Five of the Pennsylvania Hunts occupied the Penn-Marydel Foxhound ring and the Cross-Bred, English and Basset hounds made up the remainder.

The large Committee, headed by Lawrence E. Jones, President, is to be commended for the smooth and efficient running of the show where hunting people had the opportunity to meet with old friends as they watched the hounds of their choice in the pleasant, shade tree setting.

During the luncheon intermission a meeting of the American Foxhound Club was held in the Radnor Clubhouse. Newell J. Ward, Jr. was elected President, succeeding H. Douglas Paxson. The American Foxhound Club is the organization which sets the standards for American Foxhounds and is largely responsible for the great improvement in that breed in the past half century.

After the show the Bryn Mawr Hound Show Committee were hosts at a cocktail party in the Radnor Clubhouse and then the guests scattered to many parties and entertainments provided by their hospitable Pennsylvania hosts.

American Foxhounds

In the American Foxhound Division the Potomac Hunt caused some surprise among supporters of older and larger packs when they won the Champion American Foxhound Class with a handsome young bitch, Potomac Tweet Tweet 1956 (Middleburg Dexter 1952 - Potomac Tricksey 1953). Incidentally in the Brood Bitch Class Tweet Tweet stood third to Orange County Myrtle '55 (previously unplaced in the Entered Bitch Class) and Essex Flipper '48. Potomac also won the Get-Of-Sire Class with their Tony '53 (Orange County Marker '48-Potomac Tillie '47). The Champion Dog Hound of the Show was Essex Tom 1956 (Essex Federal 1956-Their Timid 1953) - beating the many time winner Essex Fireman '55. Seven packs took the field for the Pack Class, including both a dog pack and a bitch pack from Orange County. Millbrook Hunt was first, followed by Potomac with Essex Fox Hounds third. Foxcatcher and Brandywine won one ribbon apiece and except for these and one other ribbon for Millbrook, all of the honors were divided between Essex, Orange County and Potomac. Mr. W. Howard Stovall, of Stovall, Mississippi, judged this division with Mr. Walter Stokes of St. Davids, Pennsylvania. Both judges were enthusiastic in their comments on the American hounds which they felt showed a vast improvement over hounds of previous years.

Penn-Marydel Foxhounds

The Penn-Marydel Foxhounds, although listed in the Stud Book with the other American hounds, were as usual shown in a separate ring. The five Pennsylvania packs represented were Huntington Valley, Mr. Jefford's, Radnor, Rolling Rock, and Rose Tree.

In this Division the ribbons were more evenly divided but top honors were taken by Mr. Jefford's hounds and the Radnor hounds. The Champion of the Show was Mr. Jefford's Bryan (Mr. Jefford's Extreme 1953-His Velvet 1951). The total Penn-Marydel entry was not large and three of the classes were cancelled. Mr. Jeffords also won the Pack Class and in addition showed his pack with the American Foxhounds. Mr. James R. Kerr, Jr., of West Grove, Pennsylvania and Mr. Benjamin F. Funk, of Chatham, Pennsylvania, were the judges of this strictly Pennsylvania group.

Cross-Bred Foxhounds

In the Cross-Bred Division there were entries from the Meadowbrook Hounds and the Vicmead Hunt Club. The majority of the first ribbons went to Vicmead and that pack won all the Championships. The best Cross-Bred hound of the show was an unentered dog Able (Vicmead Danger 1953-Their Accurate 1952). Vicmead did not bring hounds for the Pack Class and only Meadowbrook appeared on the field to win by default. This Division was judged by J. Mason Houghland of Nashville, Tennessee.

English Foxhounds

The Chagrin Valley Hunt from Gates Mills, Ohio, brought a small entry but offered real competition for Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Foxhounds. The latter took the Championship in the dog hound division with Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Windsor 1954. Judging the bitches was a close thing. Dennison B. Hull, of Chicago, who judged this class with Major Charles M. Kindersley of Toronto, commented afterwards that it was with great difficulty that they were able to decide between Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Rachael 1953 and Cattistock Violet 1953 which now belongs to the Chagrin Valley. The first award was finally given to the Stewart hound who became the Champion Bitch and the Chagrin Valley entry was the Reserve Champion. There were two separate Pack Classes, one for bitches and the other for a mixed or dog pack. Chagrin Valley won both of these

Bryn Mawr Beagles

Barbara H. Conolly

Judge William W. Brainard, Jr. of Far Hills, N.J. was faced with a large entry of probably the best quality beagles to appear at Bryn Mawr since the war, and by the end of the day, had to make some interesting decisions among four main breeding movements in four of the nine packs which exhibited. He had to weigh carefully - 1. the Liseter line; 2. the Treweryn Bugler '51 cross on the Nantucket (Vernon Somerset background) line; 3. the Liseter cross on Sandanona's Vernon Somerset bitches, and 4. the bench champion Chessman of Walnut Hall cross on the Buckram line (last year's grand champion). Of these four breeding trends, the last three represent outcrosses to improve existing pack lines and reflect the earnest effort of the masters of those packs to raise the standard of their hounds in recent years. (This is not a reflection on those packs not mentioned, most of which are still establishing a line of their own on which to apply an outcross in future years if needed.)

During the morning session, in which 13" and 15" dog hounds were judged, it seemed as if the Liseter line was definitely going to establish supremacy in 1957 as blue after blue went to Mrs. du Pont's boxy, strong-built hounds. The exception was Sandanona Frolic '56 which made a surprise appearance (he was not entered in the catalogue) and retained his crown. This strong vigorous young hound defeated the aged but still noble Liseter Fairplay '52. Frolic represents a Liseter Merry Lad '47 cross on one of Sandanona's fine Vernon Somerset bitches Blotter '50.

The 15" Dog crown went to Liseter Merry Rex '51 over last year's champion Buckram Bellman '55 (by Ch. Chessman of Walnut Hall).

In the afternoon, the first three bitch classes went to Buckram Sandanona, and Treweryn, culminating in the 13" Bitch Championship being given to Sandanona Lively '55 (Liseter Merry Lad '47 X Vernon Somerset Mavis '52) over Liseter Merry Belle '52 (also by Liseter Merry Lad). It was not until the 15" Bitch classes that the final trend of the judging became evident as Nantucket hounds won two classes and the Championship with Nantucket Barmaid '56 (Treweryn Bugler '51 X Nantucket Hoodwink '53) defeating Buckram Alto, a puppy.

The 13" National Beagle Club Challenge Cup (dog or bitch bred and owned by exhibitor) went to Sandanona Frolic '56 and the 15" National Beagle Club Challenge Cup went to Nantucket Hoodwink '53. When these two hounds were carefully adjudged for the Grand Championship Baker Plate, the nod went to Hoodwink, Becky Sharp's beautifully proportioned bitch, the result of crossing her own Nantucket Harrier breeding lines with Vernon Somerset background. Frolic, though fully as strong and vigorvus in proportion, showed a little less quality about the head and neck.

Other notable wins were Little Prospect's imported Dummer Dairymaid '50 winning the 15" Brood Bitch class and also the Brood Bitch and two of her get; Old Chatham's winning the 15" 2 couple with their handsome big Mudlark, Minor, Bashful, and Bailiff; and Treweryn Bugler's win with two of his get in the 13" division over Sandanona's Ch. Mallory's Rock-a-Bye Bob and two of his get.

Finally the pack class, always the culmination of interest to the pack beaglers, provided no less than eight fine packs on exhibition. The best 13" packs were Liseter, Sandanona, and Treweryn in that order (the first Liseter win since 1952 and the first with young John du Pont showing the pack), and the 15" packs were

Nantucket, Buckram, and Little Prospect, (the Nantucket pack consisting of Hoodwink, her brother Hobo, and eight of her children, all by Treweryn Bugler '51 - quite a sight!)

The next morning at 7 A.M., Bob Scott of Treweryn began his official career as Huntsman of that pack with a fine two hour hare hunt over Sam Eckert's lovely farm with 15 couple of Buckram, Liseter, Little Prospect, Nantucket, Old Chatham, Sir Sister, and Treweryn Beagles. Then the Treweyryns sent us all on our homeward way with a fine milk punch and hot breakfast under our belts - a fitting end to a most significant weekend in the beagle calendar!

Origin of Foxhound Shows

The British Kennel Club upholds the claim that the first dog show ever held in England was at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1859. This was for pointers and setters only. Birmingham followed in 1860. Next year the Cleveland Dog Society is to hold its 100th show despite these prior claims. The Hon. Secretary (Mr. Albert Clarkson) writes:

"It is stated that there was a dog show at Redcar in 1858. If you could substantiate this it would cause a stir among the whole dog fraternity in England".

As a matter of fact the Redcar Show was at the Cleveland Agricultural Society's annual competitions in 1859. There were classes for foxhounds and terriers and exhibitors from all over England. 'The Druid' gives a full description in his 'Saddle and Sirloin' (P. 160). This was inaugurated by the then secretary, Mr. Thomas Parrington, and was the first public show of foxhounds ever held - the foundation of Peterborough which dates from 1878. In his obituary of Parrington the late Sir Alfred Pease said:

"This departure (a hound show), met with determined opposition, but the secretary, when he took up a thing, put it through, and the show of hounds was a great success. The Master of the Durham County Hounds (Mr. W. H. Williamson), was most opposed, and said to Tom Parrington: 'What Master of HOUNDS will send entries to a DOG show?'. Tom replied 'It won't be a DOG show, it will be a HOUND show, and Mr. Mark Milbank has promised to be one of the judges'. Hounds were sent not only from Durham County, but from Squire Hill, the Sinnington, the Hamilton, the Cleveland, Lord Middleton, the Morpeth & Fitzwilliam."

There were also classes for terriers as there had been at Yarm in 1857, if not at earlier Cleveland Agricultural Shows. Of the Yarm 1857 show 'The Druid' said 'The speciality of the Cleveland show at Yarm proved to be the fox terriers.' Capt. Percy Williams was judge and there were some big classes, huntsmen and breeders from all parts bringing dogs.

The Horse And I

(from the husband and father of a "horse-minded" family).

Horses just stare back at me,

Daring me to disagree;

They say, "Go on, get on my back,"

"Come on, get on, - I dare you, Mac."

If Mac were really my right name,
I wouldn't fall for this sly game,
For horse sense is a kind of sense
Surpassing man's intelligence.

A horse knows how to throw a shoe,
And be forgiven for it, too;

A man can throw a shoe and be

Scorned, and sued for cruelty.

A horse can run and run and sweat,
And loving hands will bathe him, - yet
When in the sun I dig and toil,
No one cares how crisp I broil.

One horse can whinney at another,
Though he is not a pop or brother;
But when I whinney at a dame,
I always seem to get the blame.

Thus I can now begin to see,
The horse is cleverer than me.
In fact I feel somewhat superior
In being just a bit inferior.

I like the horse because he's smart.
In fact, I think he's made a start
Toward something he has not yet tried -
Of going on a "man-back" ride.

ANNUAL ROSTER OF THE ORGANIZED HUNTS OF AMERICA

1957 - 1958

FOREWORD

Gilbert Mather, M. F. H.

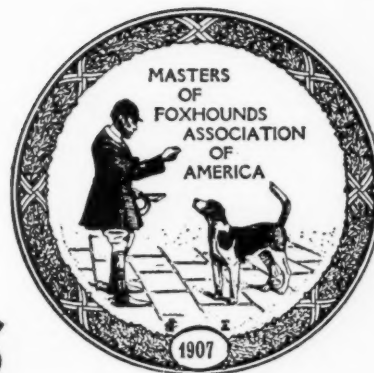

President, Masters of Foxhounds Association

The season of 1956-57 was, on the whole, an excellent one and most hunts reported satisfactory sport. While there was lack of rain in the early autumn, which made for poor scenting conditions during the cub hunting season, this was remedied by early October and conditions for the rest of the season were good. There was but little snow and most hunts were able to carry out their schedules throughout the winter.

Foxes too were generally more numerous and few blank days were reported. An encouraging sign is the increasing frequency of the appearance of technical reports written by qualified ecologists and game management technicians as the result of scientific studies of the role of the red fox in the scheme of nature. A number of such studies have been conducted by the conservation departments of several states, and in each case they have demonstrated the fallacy of the opinion so long held by many gunners that the red fox is responsible for periodic declines in the pheasant, grouse and rabbit populations.

The most recent of these surveys was conducted by the Department of Conservation of the State of Michigan and is described in detail in an illustrated pamphlet entitled RED FOXES OF MICHIGAN published in 1956.

A number of states which still knuckle under to political pressure of misinformed groups continue the discredited system of paying a bounty on foxes, but it is to be hoped that with the increasing knowledge of the true value of the fox that better judgment will eventually prevail.

Sierra Vista which is panelled (ditches, banks, chicken coops) taking every advantage of the natural terrain of this hunting country and the 10,000 Rancho Canejo. These ranches are all adjacent with adequate panels from one to the other. 30,000 acres adjacent to Hunter Haven Farms, which we use for roading and cubbing. Also, hounds are taken to Palm Springs in February with good sized fields.

Bryn Mawr Basset Hounds

Kent Leavitt

This years entries were drawn from the same packs as in 1956, namely, The Sky-castle, The Tewksbury Foot, The Timber Ridge and The Poonas. There is no question but that the quality of the entries was superior to those of last year, even though the behavior of some of the battle scarred veterans was not what judge and audience had been led to expect of these benevolent hounds. Speaking of judges, that important office was filled this year for the Bassets by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred (Bick) Bissell of Wilmington, Del. who have hunted their own pack for many a long year, as well as making many trips to Europe to study the breed. They judged with extreme interest and care, their decisions proved popular, yet the dog classes were finished well before the lunch hour and the final pack class was disposed of early in the afternoon.

In the unentered Dog Class, The Timber Ridge, showing marked improvement, took first with Cheyenne, a good looking tri-color that showed great promise. He was closely followed by Sky Castle Extra, a lemon and white hound of sound proportions, then came Tewksbury's Mailman by their Roughwood Elmer.

Poona Judge took the Entered Dog Hound Class over ten entries, the largest number of the division, thus he bore out the prediction of two years ago when he won as an unentered hound. He later went on to be champion dog hound winning from Timber Ridge Speed. In the entered Hound Class Speed was second and Tewksbury's Elmer third.

In the Stallion Class T.F.D.'s Paragon took over from Timber Ridge's Speed and also beat his litter mate, Poona Diesel, but Diesel came back to win with two of his get over Elmer in the following class.

After lunch, Timber Ridge took first and third with their promising unentered bitches Mandy and Margie by Ch. Meyer's Red Boy out of Jezebel with T.F.B.'s Mermaid placed between them. The Timber Ridge then repeated their 1 - 3 positions in the Entered Bitch Class with Mellow and Gaily, granting second to Poona Chatter. Mellow went on to win Champion Bitch showing far more bone, wrinkle and massiveness than Chatter who got Reserve.

Timber Ridge was again 1 and 3 with their bitch couples almost squeezing out the Poona Entry of Chime and Jingle.

The sun was hot and hound dog tempers getting short when the entries came in for the two couple class. Old pieces of liver, kibble biscuit and kind words failed to win out over the snarling back chat of the coupled-up Poonas who almost immediately put on as good a dog fight as has been seen at Bryn Mawr in many a year. One might have thought the pit bulls were at it again. Timber Ridge remained calm and took the ribbons.

Tempers had cooled, however, by Pack Class time, and the Poonas took the S. Leonard Kent Memorial Trophy for the best five couple of bassets with a well mannered performance over last years winners, the Tewksbury Foot Bassets, thus giving third to Charlie Rogers' Timber Ridge Pack.

STARS OVER JUMPS

The conservative British publication "The Field" recently printed the following: "There is no doubt that our leading show-jumpers, particularly the ladies, have acquired, in the eyes of the public, the status of stage and screen stars. At some of the shows I have attended this summer they have been "billed" as the chief attraction."

Fourth Canadian Annual English Foxhound Show

The fourth Canadian Annual English Foxhound Show under the auspices of the Masters of Foxhounds Assoc. of America took place in Toronto on March 19th, when 45 entries from Montreal, Toronto & North York, and Eglinton Hunts were brought before the judges, Brig. F.C.G. Page, D.S.O., O.B.E., and Mr. Charles Smith, ex-Huntsman to Mr. Stewart's Cheshire Foxhounds.

The continued improvement in class of hound shown and the way they are shown is most gratifying. It is also noteworthy that the difference in the number of points scored this year by the competing hunts was negligible. All this goes to show that the English Foxhound Shows held to date have gone a long way towards reaching their main objective, i.e., to improve the breed of foxhounds in Canada.

The unentered doghound classes were dominated by Toronto & North York Hunt, with Poacher by Whipcord '54-Portrait '54, and when the same hound joined his litter brother, Porlock, they carried off the Couple Class.

The strongest contenders in the Single Entered Doghound classes were Toronto & North York Pageant '55 by Avon Vale Prodigal '50-Wisdom '53, and the Eglinton entry Belvoir Hamlet '54 by Halifax '49-Ripple '50, and these hounds were placed in that order in Classes 3 and 5, with Montreal Hunt's South Dorset Landlord '55 by Dalesman '51-Lavender '52 in third place. Pageant '55, like many of Prodigal's get, shows himself well and into the bargain is extremely hard to fault. He had, however, a close rival in these classes in Belvoir Hamlet '54, another short-backed, compact black-and-tan hound with good depth. Both these hounds are superb movers.

Montreal Hunt won the Couple of Entered Doghounds with the beautifully matched dark-coloured litter brothers, Clunker and Comrade '56 by Manfred

'52-Cora '52. Manfred '52 has left his stamp on the Montreal Hunt kennel and it is to be regretted that this good stallion hound is no longer available.

Toronto & North York Poacher, a grandson of Avon Vale Prodigal '50, was awarded the dog hound championship over Pageant '55, a son of Prodigal's, although either hound deserved the honour.

The bitch classes turned out to be stronger than at first anticipated, and this time it was Eglinton's turn for a championship, won for them by Seemly '55 by Avon Vale Prodigal '50-Toronto & North York Sequin '50. This attractive and well-balanced tri-coloured bitch had previously won a strongish entered bitch class starting with six entries.

The Toronto & North York and Montreal Hunts finished in that order in the

THE CHRONICLE

Couple of Unentered Bitches, and Couple of Entered Bitches, but the position was reversed in Class 15 for Two Couple of Bitches, when the Montreal Hunt showed South Dorset Sapphire '54 by Grafton Whipcord '50 - Saintly '47, Special and Speedy by Montreal Manfred '52 - their Singwell '55, and Singwell herself by Shelburne Garrison '51 - Signet '51. The Toronto & North York quartet consisted of Prentice '54, Prospect '56, and Princess '54, by Avon Vale Prodigal '50 - Vivian '49, and Virtue '55 by Actor '53 - Vivian '49.

The Brood Bitch class was awarded to the Toronto & North York entry Portrait '54 by North Staffs. Porter '51 - Grove and Rufford Rally '52, with her dam, the Eglinton entry Grove and Rufford Rally '52 by Brocklesby Rockwood '45 - Grove Spice '50, in second place.

The final class, No. 16, the Watson Webb Challenge Trophy, went to the Toronto & North York Hunt with the Montreal Hunt in second place.

CANINE TECHNIQUE

Arnold N. Winick, the young trainer, and his wife Laverne, were at one time professional dog handlers specializing in obedience tests. They are putting their experience in this field to work on the three-year-old colt Top Price (Citation-Miss Brief, by *Sickle), which was sold as a yearling at Saratoga by Henry H. Knight's Almahurst Farm for $44,000. He proved so intractable that he was consigned to a paddock sale by his purchaser, Mrs. Anson Bigelow, where he was purchased by Winick for the Jay Kay Stable for a modest sum. The Winick's report considerable progress. Top Price is said to be eating out of Laverne's hand and has stopped dumping his exercise boy, Joe Saggio, on the ground.

Letter On Hunting

Dear Sir:

You may be interested to learn that my wife, (the former Miss Ruby Meier of Cincinnati, Ohio), and I have recently received three foxhound puppies from the County Limerick Hunt in Adare, Ireland. They arrived one week ago via air freight from Shannon.

Air freight for animals does not come into Louisville and hence they wound up in Indianapolis, Indiana. My wife, upon being notified, drove to Indianapolis, picked them up and brought them to our place at Skylight, Kentucky.

Enclosed is a photograph. They were whelped on May 15th, 16th and May 20th, 1957. Their names reading left to right are "Tension," "Vestige," and "Chanter." Tension was sired by County Limericks "Vanguard 1955." Vestige and Chanter were sired by the Heythrop's (England)

"Chieftain 1950." All three are out of County Limerick bitches. These were shipped to us by Lord Daresbury who is the Master of the County Limerick Hunt in Adare.

When my wife and I hunted in Adare three years ago this coming February we always thought that we would someday like to have some hounds from that hunt. It has taken us approximately two and a half years to realise this hope.

The puppies are in perfect condition and have had their ears rounded and distemper shots before leaving the County Limerick kennels. We do not plan to form or build a complete pack of hounds from these, although it would be easy to do so.

We have in mind keeping three or four good hounds of our own to hunt in and around the outskirts of Louisville.

Sincerely,
John S. Rodes
Fourth at Walnut
Louisville 2, Ky.

P. S. Some two and a half years ago from actual experience we believed that the best hunting in Ireland was with the County Limerick Hounds. While my wife and I did not hunt in England we have been told by many people that the best sport in England today is being shown by the Heythrop. With sires and dams from each of these two fine packs, we feel we have the best of bloodlines.

when John W. Hanes' Terrible Turk and Miss M. H. Tully's Public Domain, tired with pace-making. *Downpatrick received a well-judged ride from Scott Riles to withstand a stretch drive from Mrs. Ogden Phipps' Decorate. Ridden by Paddy Smithwick, the latter was making an initial start over hurdles and the 3-year-old gelding pleased his owner, with his performance. Going well, but vanquished by Decorate in the stretch, the Dolphin Rock Stable's Paint the Town finished 3rd with Thomas Walsh in the saddle. Making it the 1st of a clean sweep for Irish-bred Thoroughbreds, *Downpatrick negotiated the trip in 3:14.

*Evian Winner On Flat

Prepping for the International Gold Cup at the coming Rolling Rock meeting, Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy's *Evian again demonstrated his speed on the flat by winning the Peapack, a 1 1/4 mile turf test which closed the day of sport. Breaking on top, Mrs. William Cox Wright's *The Saint 2nd opened a lead which found him 6 lengths in front of the field of 9 at the 3/4's, as C. Mahlon Kline's Crighton led the balance. Coming from 5th position at this point, *Evian just got up to nip *The Saint 2nd by a scant nose. Ridden out by R. M. Gilpin, the latter bested Crighton by 1 1/2 lengths. In covering the 1 1/4 miles over turf in 1:53 1/5, the brush performer scored his 2nd victory on the flat this month and made a clean sweep of the program for Irish-bred horses.

The 1956 British Bloodstock Breeders Review

A. S. Hewitt

This review has now been published every year since 1912. It is without doubt the best single source of information on racing and Thoroughbred breeding throughout the world. There are very few mistakes of fact in it, and its statistical section is a perfect mine of information on the British Thoroughbred.

From time to time, in addition to the reviews of racing and sales, there are special articles which are particularly attractive to the student. The 1956 edition contains a contribution by K. Bobinski on the breeding and racing career of the unbeaten Italian crack Ribot. This is especially appealing as it affords some insight into the breeding methods of the late Capt. Frederico Tesio, of Italy, considered by many to have been the greatest breeder of the 20th century. Ribot was the last great horse bred by Tesio, who unfortunately died just before Ribot started.

In the section on British racing there is also a discussion by Vincent Orchard on the relative merits of British and French Thoroughbreds. Mr. Orchard gives the following summary of the last ten years of the English Derby. (French colts were not eligible to the 1946 race, as this generation had to be nominated in 1944, when the Germans were still in France.)

1947 - 1. French; 2. by French-bred sire; 3. by Italian sire. 1948 - 1. French; 2. French; 3. British. 1949 - 1. by Italian sire; 2. French; 3. by French sire. 1950 - 1. French; 2. U. S. A.; 3. British. 1951 - 1. French sire; 2. British; 3. British. 1952 - British; 2. British; 3. French. 1953 - 1. French sire; 2. British; 3. French. 1954 - 1. U. S. A. (British sire); 2. British; 3. British. 1955 - 1. French; 2. British; 3. Italian sire. 1956 - 1. French; 2. French; 3. British.

This ten year history breaks down:

A. Winners - 5 French bred; 2 French bred sires; 1 Italian bred sire; 1 U.S.A. (British sire); 1 British bred.

B. Seconds - 5 British; 3 French; 1 French bred sire; 1 U.S.A.

C. Thirds - 5 British; 2 French; 2 Italian bred sires; 1 French bred sire.

The preponderance of foreign blood speaks for itself among the winners.

In addition, in 1956 in the most important races in England beyond a mile the French horses were: 1. Oaks (for fillies) 1st and 2nd; 2. St. Leger - 1st; 3. Ascot Gold Cup - 1st, 2nd, 3rd; 4. Coronation Cup - 1st; 5. Eclipse Stakes - 1st; 6. Champion Stakes (Sire and dam of winner were French).

This is a fairly complete list of the most important weight for age races in England, except for the One and Two Thousand Guineas (each 1 mile).

In the face of this series of disasters for the British, it never seriously occurs to Mr. Orchard that the British Thoroughbred is not still supreme. This is the same quality of tenacity (there are some unkind souls in Europe and elsewhere who have called it stupidity) which enabled the British to defeat both Napoleon and Hitler. Both dictators had conquered Europe, and were opposed at one time only by the British who had no armies in the field.

Yet in the end, the British won. It may be the same with their Thoroughbreds. There was a period beginning with Gladiateur, "the avenger of Waterloo", who won the Triple Crown in 1865, and continuing with Fille de l'Air, Chamant, and Rayon d'Or (St. Leger), when the French horses seemed to be the equal of the British.

However, with the appearance in England of the great sires Galopin (1872) his son St. Simon (1881) and Isonomy (1875) the British Thoroughbred regained its supremacy. It should not be forgotten that these strains combined first class speed with soundness and great stamina.

By a coincidence, there is in England a first class three-year-old in 1957 - Crepello, the winner of the Two Thousand Guineas and Derby in smashing style. Barring accident, he should win the St.

Leger as well and become the first winner of the Triple Crown since Bahram in 1936. This colt belongs to Sir Victor Sassoon, who is under no financial pressure to sell him. If he is kept in England he could go a long way towards restoring the position of the British Thoroughbred. With the help of one or two more like him, British Thoroughbred history might repeat itself.

(Editor's Note: - Unfortunately the accident occurred. Crepello struck himself in a training gallop and did not start in the St. Leger.)

England's "Classics"

The description 'Classic' is given to five important races run for in England. The term 'Classic' occurs nowhere in official records, and is not older than a century. I have not been able to discover through whom, or exactly when, it originated, and recall that the late Mr. Arthur Portman, in his 'Audax' notes to Horse & Hound, always spoke of 'the so-called classics'.

The Romans were divided by Servius into six classes. Any citizen who belonged to the highest class was called classicus, all the rest were said to be infra classem. This may have been the origin of the now commonly accepted Turf term 'classic'.

The races given the distinction of that title (in order of date of running) are the Two Thousand Guineas (founded 1809), 1 mile. The One Thousand Guineas (founded 1814), for fillies only, 1 mile. The Derby (founded by 12th Earl of Derby 1780) confined to three-year-old entire colts and fillies, 1 1/2 miles. The Oaks (founded 1779, and named after 12th Earl of Derby's seat, The Oaks, purchased from his relative, General Burgoyne, originally an inn near Epsom) 1 1/2 miles. The St. Leger (founded 1776 but not named until 1778, after Col. St. Leger, of Park Hill, Doncaster) for three-year-olds, entire colts and fillies, 1 mile, 6 furlongs 132 yards.

Racing Review

dustrials has done as well over the same period.

Maybe letting the word get out in print like that wasn't too wise. Apparently the sports-loving readers of THE CHRONICLE took my advice and poured it in on Jewel's Reward when he went in the Cowdin on September 16.

It ruined the price. Jewel's Reward was held at 2.80 to 1, and was second choice in the race. Still, he won, and that's the important thing.

He followed Jimmer's place in the 6 1/2 furlong gallop, until Bill Hartack felt it was time to go ahead. There was nothing easy about the win, though. Jewel's Reward was half a length in front at the head of the stretch and barely eked out the score over the fast-closing Nadir. Jester was third and Misty Flight, fourth. The Claiborne Farm entry of Nadir (undefeated going into the race) and Sir Ruler was favored in the wagering.

The $24,925 Jewel's Reward brought in gives him a total of $150,170.

The son of Jet Jewel-Belle Jeep, by War Jeep, was bred by Maine Chance Farm, the racing establishment of Mrs. Elizabeth N. Graham. Ivan H. Parke trains for the stable.

Beldame Handicap

Saturday, September 21, was the day of the Beldame Handicap and the Matron Stakes at Belmont Park.

Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Pucker Up took the mile-and-one-eighth event for females three and up, while Idun extended her unbeaten record to 5 in taking the Matron.

Pucker Up, with Bill Shoemaker aboard, followed the pace of Plotter most of the way, and outgamed that one to win by a neck. Gay Life finished third, Snow White, fourth.

Pucker Up carried 125 pounds, Plotter, 119.

The winner paid $5.80 in the $2 line.

The value of the race to the winner was $51,200 and that puts Pucker Up at $210,775. The four-year-old filly has 5 wins, 3 seconds and 2 thirds in 11 1957 starts.

By Olympia-Lou Lea, by Bull Lea, she was bred by Danada Farm (Dan and Ada Rice).

J. P. Conway trains for Mrs. Rice.

Idun, the property of Mrs. Charles Ulrick Bay, was second choice to Poly Hi in the Matron. She earned $42,900 for her 6 1/2 - furlong dash down the Widener Course.

Poly Hi was second in the Matron and Armorial, third.

It was the first try in a stakes for Idun, a two-year-old by *Royal Charger-Tige O'Myheart, by Bull Lea. With 5 official wins in as many times at bat, she has earnings of $54,730. She was beaten by Bridgework first time out, but was moved up when the front horse was disqualified.

Sherrill Ward trains Idun; Bill Hartack was up for the Matron.

Idun was bred by Leslie Combs and John W. Hanes. Mrs. Bay paid $63,000 for the filly at Keeneland last year.

Atlantic City

Only three horses came out against Decathlon in the Longport Handicap on September 21, and, even though he was carrying 132 pounds, the River Divide Farm representative was made the hot choice at 2 to 5 and he won with authority. Leading all the way, he hung on to a 1 1/2-length margin to stave off the three-year-old Manteau. Decathlon ran the seven furlongs in 1:21 3/5.

Skipper Bill was third home and Star Rover was fourth (and $1,127.50 isn't a bad prize for ending up in last place.)

Ridden by R. Lawless, the son of Olympia-Dog Blessed, by *Bull Dog, earned $14,407.50. This gives him a season's total of $69,961.50. He has won 6 races and been second once in 7 starts.

River Divide Farm belongs to Mr. R. J. Dienst. Rollie T. Shepp trains the R. D. horses.

Nuckols Brothers bred Decathlon.

The bay colt is four years old.

Short Takes of Late Stakes

Golden Notes was handed the Spy Song Handicap prize when Ezgo was disqualified. The race was run at Hawthorne on September 18.

The Illinois Owners' Handicap, at Hawthorne September 21, went to Clermont.

Pete's Folly registered in the Motor City Handicap at Detroit on September 14.

Tanforan's Peninsula Handicap (September 14, went to Battle Dance.

U. S. Jumping Team

The Executive Committee of the U. S. Equestrian Team, Inc. has named Hugh Wiley of Towson, Md., Frank Chapot of Wallpack, N. J., Charles Dennehy, Jr., of Lake Forest, Ill. and William Steinkraus of Westport, Conn. as the four riders who will comprise the official U. S. jumping team to compete in the three North American International Horse Shows this fall.

The international horse show circuit, which will see the U. S. team pitted against riders from Canada, Mexico, Ireland, Chile, Argentina and Great Britain, commences at the Pennsylvania National Horse Show in Harrisburg, October 19-26, moves to New York City's National Horse Show from Nov. 5 to Nov. 12 and concludes with the Royal Canadian Winter Fair in Toronto, Nov. 15-23. It is expected that Messrs. Wiley, Chapot and Steinkraus will ride at the first two shows, with Mr. Dennehy replacing Chapot at Toronto. Team horses will include Mr. & Mrs. W. J. Barney's Master William, Mr. Wiley's Nautical, Mr. A. J. Long's Rip Miller,

Mr. Dennehy's Pill Box, Mrs. John Galvin's Night Owl, Miss Joan Magid's First Boy and the USET's Trail Guide.

All four of the riders selected have been members of previous international teams. Messrs. Wiley, Chapot and Steinkraus were members of the Olympic Equestrian Team that finished fifth in Stockholm last year and competed in the same three shows last fall. Mr. Dennehy was a member of the Pan American Games team that competed in Mexico City in 1955, and rode on the fall circuit in 1954. All four riders have participated this summer in the training program which the USET operated at the Greenwich, Conn. estate of Mr. Alvin Untermyer. The group is presently in training under the supervision of Capt. Bertalan de Nemethy, team coach, at Avon, N. Y. and will complete its preparations there prior to shipping to Harrisburg in mid-October.

COL. SIFTON PURCHASES ULYSSES

Col. Victor Sifton of Winnipeg and Toronto has purchased the grey jumper Ulysses from J. C. Cakebread, Toronto. Col. Sifton shows under the name of The Free Press Weekly. Ulysses, over 17 hands, has proved to be a jumper of unusual ability with a bold free way of going. In winning the Puissance at the Canadian National Exhibition he displayed Olympic potential and in defeating A. C. Texter's The Spook in the third jump-off, treated the crowd to one of the most thrilling exhibitions of jumping seen for years.

TRI-HUNTS PONY CLUB

Members of the newly organized Tri-Hunts Pony Club, The Plains, Va., met on September 21 at the Ohrstrom's Whitewood stables for a riding picnic. Not all of the members were able to attend, nonetheless riders and instructors present and accounted for totalled about 25. The Pony Club is comprised of members living in Orange County, Piedmont, Middleburg and Warrenton hunting territory, and is under the supervision of Mrs. Paul R. Fout and Mrs. Robert E. McConnell, Jr. While weather permits riders and mounts will meet each Saturday at Whitewood and later on when socked in will gather for non-riding meetings where instruction will be given on matters equestrian. M.T.

BASIC HORSE CARE

The Middle Tennessee Pony Club, which in the past has issued so many excellent mimeographed texts for its members, has recently published an eight page pamphlet entitled "Basic Horse Care" which, like its predecessors, we can heartily recommend.

NOTES FROM PIPING ROCK

Otis Trowbridge, the announcer, seemed to be bearing up well with his duties, in spite of having become a grandfather for the first time on the day previous to the show.

The hot muggy weather, more in keeping with mid-July than the traditional opening of the fall season, caused the show to relax its heretofore very strict regulation on the wearing of coats. Incidentally, the coats seem to become "louder and louder". Those who don't have bright red, green or plaid on the outside seem to go for it in the linings, which show up very effectively when the riders were performing over fences.

So many polo players are active on the committees, that the show forced cancellation of the Sunday fame at Meadow Brook.

Fairview Farm's Bronze Wing is now at the stable of David Kelley in Armonk, N. Y. Tanbark

VIA THE VINE

We hear that young Moffat Dumlup, one of Canada's most outstanding young riders, has bought Happy Nougat from the Spencers of London for an open horse. The big bay by the French coach stallion Nougat, will be quite a contrast to Moffat's brilliant jumping little Thoroughbred, Dilmon, with whom he has had considerable success for the past two years in both open jumping and working hunter classes.

THE CHRONICLE Chronicle Cover

Mrs. Erroll G. Ostrum of Portland, Oregon, the owner of our cover picture, writes: "This is a crayon drawing Patricia Palmer did for me of our two hounds. The work is an excellent likeness and a splendid example of the great ability of this artist, Mrs. Palmer, as you know, has illustrated several books, among them Dr. George Saunders "Your Horse", and is well-known here on the coast as well as in the east for her animal portrayals.

Fife and Drum, two full brothers, were obtained from the pack of American Foxhounds at Columbia Hunt, Hayden Island, Oregon, by my husband and me five years ago and it has been very gratifying to prove that foxhounds make excellent pets. They are affectionate, intelligent, quiet and wonderful companions on a trail ride. A pair are fun, but one alone is less apt to get the urge to go off on a "hunt" when left to guard the farm!

I am sending along a copy of the drawing (you should see the original in full color) in hopes you might like to use it this fall as hunting season approaches."

BITS GATHERED AT QUENTIN

Sgt. Joseph B. Mulranen, (Ret.), one of the most famous ringmasters in the East, and who has been ringmaster for all of the 23 years the Quentin (Pa.) Horse Show has been held, surprised everyone by announcing it would be his last appearance there. He was presented with a gift by the jump detail.

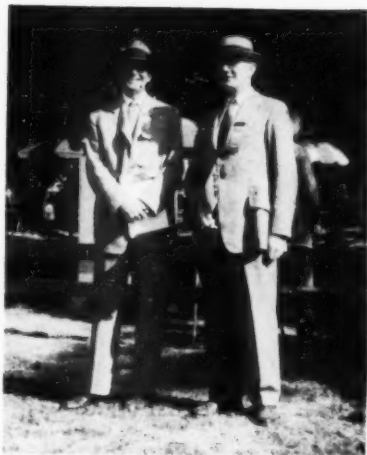

The Quentin Junior Riders presented a painting of the Quentin Club House to Club President John Robson. The painting was done by Joan MacIntyre, well known horse portraitist of Camp Hill, Pa.

Mrs. William M. Tate of Baltimore, had a bad spill on the outside course, and was treated at a nearby hospital for a fractured collarbone. M.L.S.

BACK IN THE SADDLE AGAIN

Norman Coates was back in the show ring aboard his gray gelding Dartmoor at the Spring Valley Horse Show. Mr. Coates deserves a round of applause from one and all, for after a bad spill last year it seemed doubtful that he would ever be riding as hard as he now does. He is a regular member of the field both with the Essex and the Spring Valley Hounds.

BOYS AT PIPING ROCK

A feature of the very strong junior classes at the Piping Rock horse show was the relatively large number of boys competing. For instance in the open horsemanship class over fences for juniors who have not reached their 14th birthday the first three places were won by Michael Del Balso, Geoffrey Craig and Linzee Whittaker. The first two were similarly placed in the corresponding hack class while Michael Del Balso (at 13) won the equitation championship.

TIEKEN TO PLAN PAN AMERICAN EQUESTRIAN GAMES

Robert Tieken of Chicago has been designated by the Organizing Committee of the Mayor of Chicago for the Pan American Games to plan the Equestrian Events which will be held there in 1959.

QUARTER HORSE REGISTRATIONS

The American Quarter Horse Association announced that after January 1 1962, horses sired by Thoroughbred stallions or out of Thoroughbred mares would not be eligible for registration in the Quarter Horse Stud Book. The rule applies to horses foaled before that date for which registration has not been previously requested, as well as to horses foaled after that date.

UNITED HUNTS DINNER

The Annual United Hunts Dinner will be held at the Ambassador Hotel on October 15th, the evening before the Temple Gwathmey Steeplechase at Belmont Park the following day. Mrs. Ogden Phipps, who maintains one of the strongest stables in the steeplechase picture today, is Chairman of the Dinner Committee. Members of the United Hunts Racing Association may make reservations through Miss Helen Eden, 300 Park Avenue, New York 22, N. Y., Telephone El Dorado 5-2150.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW JUDGES

Judges named for the National Horse Show include Bernard E. Hopper, Mrs. Edgar Scott and Farrell Vincent, hunters; Fred L. Devereux, Jr., Col. D. W. Thackeray, jumpers; Mrs. C. H. Coffin, Jr., Mrs. Deborah Fenbert Goldstone, M. Robert Mannix and Theodore A. Mohlman, junior riders; Maj. Gen. Guy V. Henry, Lt. Col. Stuart C. Bates, and Col. F. F. Wing, Jr., international jumping.

HONEY CRAVEN'S HORN

The brass coach horn which America's premier ring master, Honey Craven, has made familiar to all major horse show enthusiasts, was made many years ago for Chris Mulcany, the guard on the coach of Miss Jean Brown Scott of Philadelphia. This "Yard of Tin", famous for its tone among musicians as well as horsemen, like a fine violin improves with time including several repairs and patches. Mr. Craven, whose scarlet coaching coat with blue facings trimmed with gold braid is one of the most colorful features of the horse show scene, is President of the Professional Horsemen's Association. Each evening when he reaches his Cohasset, Mass. home after a day at the London Harness Company in Boston he has an hour's practising session in the garden which gives the neighbors a much appreciated evening concert. In fact whenever he is away officiating and there is consequently no horn music, someone is apt to call Mrs. Craven to enquire after Honey's health.

FOR BETTER SCHOOLING . . .

Some months ago, "Horse Magazine" published four articles of mine, analyzing certain factors which help the horse to jump well and others which have the opposite effect - matters anyone must understand to ride and school efficiently.

It has been suggested that I gather these articles together under one cover. The result is a $1.00 pamphlet entitled,
"DO COLLECTED GAITS HAVE PLACE IN SCHOOLING
